WHY CHOOSE GOLD?

Gold has been one of the most favored forms of wealth for centuries. It has helped form empires, safeguarded wealth across generations and countries, and protected value even in the midst of turmoil.

Today, financial analysts still believe it is a vital part of a diverse and balanced portfolio.

Recent stock market volatility shows that retirement accounts can plummet in value without warning. In 2008, plunging stock market prices cost Americans 50% of the value of their investments, and 2022 marked the lowest stock prices since then, ending the year with an almost 20% drop in value. Imagine approaching your retirement years with $1 million in your IRA, only to find that it's suddenly worth less than $500,000 just as you plan to leave your job. There go your plans for a comfortable retirement.

The Value of a $1M Retirement Account During the 2008 Crash

This was an unfortunate reality for many Americans in 2008.

Stock market crashes like these happen for many reasons, although they can be spurred on by more significant events like a housing crisis or pandemic. This volatility is widespread and often unpredictable. In recent years, inflation, rising interest rates, and political and social unrest are just a few of the incidents contributing to stock market pricing changes.

This unending capacity for uncertainty is why so many experts recommend diversifying your portfolio with physical gold. This asset has historically held its ground or even risen in value during previous stock market collapses.

Exploring the Worst Years in the Stock Market

	S&P 500	GOLD
1974	-29.7%	72.01%
1977	-11.50%	19.69%
2001	-13.04%	1.62%
2002	-23.37%	20.33%
2008	-38.49%	8.29%

WHO RECOMMENDS GOLD?

It's estimated that 10.8% of Americans own gold today. Millions are turning to precious metal investments to safeguard their savings against future market volatility.

There's a long list of respected entrepreneurs, economists, and leading financial thinkers who recommend owning gold.

Here are just a few examples of notable figures who suggest diversifying your portfolio with gold.

Legendary American financier J.P Morgan said: "Gold and silver is money, everything else is credit."

Former Federal Reserve Chairman Alan Greenspan has said, "Gold still represents the ultimate form of payment in the world. Fiat money in extremis is accepted by nobody. Gold is always accepted."

One of the most prominent names in finance, John Paulson of Paulson & Co, earned almost $4 billion betting against the housing market in the 2008 market crash. Now, his single largest holding is in gold, and he's even started his own gold fund.

Jim Rogers, a notable commodity guru, said: "When people lose confidence in governments and currencies, they always go to gold and silver."

Finally, Ray Dalio, the founder of Bridgewater Associates, one of the top hedge funds in the world, has commented: "If you don't own gold, you know neither history nor economics."

A GOLD IRA: EXPLAINED

If you're already familiar with the standard IRA, you won't have a hard time understanding gold IRAs – they operate in a very similar way. They follow the same annual contribution limits and retirement distribution regulations and, most importantly, offer the same tax advantages.

However, unlike traditional retirement accounts, self-directed IRAs permit the inclusion of physical gold and other assets and are not solely limited to stocks and bonds. This affords greater flexibility in diversifying across various asset classes and serves as a safeguard for your hard-earned assets in the midst of uncertain circumstances.

Establishing and funding a Gold IRA can be relatively straightforward. We've assisted hundreds of clients in navigating this process, delivering over $100 million worth of gold and silver since our foundation in 2008.

INVEST IN GOLD & SILVER INSIDE YOUR IRA

The process is simple and easy. Just follow these three easy steps, or call us for help getting started.

STEP 1

Open a Precious Metals IRA

To get started, send us an email or call us on the phone, and we'll send over a standard customer agreement. You'll need to fill out a few forms, or one of our reps can help you do it over the phone.

STEP 2

Add money to your new IRA account

Simply mail us a check or wire us the money. We'll even send you an easy and convenient prepaid FedEx shipping label if you're sending a check.

STEP 3

Choose your precious metals

As soon as your account is funded, you can contact one of our Precious Metals experts to let them know which metals you'd like to invest in. Then, we'll ship them free and insured so they get to you ASAP.

Once your shipment arrives at the depository, the package is opened and closely inspected. After the contents have been verified, your precious metals are securely deposited and stored for the remainder of your contract.

When opening an account at a depository, you may choose between two types:

NON-SEGREGATED STORAGE

This type of account commingles precious metals in bulk storage designed for your chosen custodian. When you need to sell, exchange, or take in-kind distribution at your selected depository, you will not receive exactly the same materials you deposited. Instead, you'll receive precious metals that are of equivalent value.

SEGREGATED STORAGE

Within a segregated storage account, your precious metals will be stored separately in a designated area for your chosen custodian. Whenever you need to sell, exchange, or take personal possession of your precious metals, you or your beneficiaries will receive exactly the same materials that were initially deposited

Storage fees

Any depository you choose will charge an annual storage fee through your custodian. This fee is typically based on the precious metals held within your IRA. These storage fees are usually billed alongside your annual IRA fee once the account is opened and then every year after that. Typical storage fees are billed at the rates below:

- Non-Segregated storage: $100
- Segregated storage: $150

VALUING YOUR PRECIOUS METALS

The valuations of precious metals visible on your statement rely on the spot value, which is calculated by multiplying the current spot price by the ounces of fine metal contained in each coin or bar. Spot values exclude any premiums, mark-ups, mark-downs, or commissions. They should only be considered as an indication of value, not a definitive bid price for purchasing from any broker or dealer. The specific type and quantity of precious metals involved in a transaction may impact the price received for each bullion item. For more specific price indications on particular bullion products, contact your Account Executive at Gold Gate Capital.

The depository mandates that proof coins must be encapsulated in complete, original mint packaging, along with a certificate of authenticity, and must be in excellent condition. Non-proof coins should be undamaged and in Brilliant Uncirculated condition.

Investors should be aware that in addition to account statements, the spot price is also utilized to report the fair market value of your account to the IRS when required.

Gold Gate Capital can help investors and their families safeguard their wealth by diversifying their investments with precious metals. Gold Gate Capital provides meaningful insights into the precious metals market through our website, articles, and product specialists, empowering novice and seasoned investors alike.

TESTIMONIALS FROM OUR VALUED CLIENTS

Highly Recommended!
GGC has been a great resource for gold and silver bullion coins for me whether purchased with personal funds or by my IRA. Some of my purchases I keep stored at their depository and some have been shipped to me directly for self-storage.

Great Metal Seller
I have been collecting from Gold Gate Capital for many years, and love the quality of their products.

Top Quality Products
Matt was very helpful, knowledgeable, and shipped product quickly. The shipping package was carefully wrapped. Everything went perfectly.
